meeting at the court-house to-night. The court-room was crowded to its utmost capacity, and the audience was composed of the very best element of our posed of the very best element of our population. Ringing speeches were made by local orators and their remarks, to the effect that the white men must win to-morrow's election, were cheered to the echo. There was a spirit of determination manifested throughout the meeting which is bona fide evidence that the white men are terribly in earnest. It is stated, on good authority here to-night that the revenue cutter Boutwell, stationed at this port, has received orders to quell any ligent enough to realize from what quar-ter the trouble will ensue, but when it is remembered that the orders proceed from administration it is extremely doubtful how they will act.

FUSIONISTS DESPERATE. The Fusionists realize that the State is lost, but are making desperate efforts to retrieve their fallen fortunes. In Jones county, which adjoins this county (Cra-ven), the entire lot of Democratic tickets was stolen yesterday. It is highly pro-hable that this high-handed outrage was instigated by the fusion managers. Word was immediately sent here, however, and a new supply was sent out to-day. The general situation to-night may be sum-med up in a few words: The white men will win to-morrow's election. They hope for the best; but are prepared for the

The Indications Favorable to a Quiet Election.

SCOTLAND NECK, N. C., November 7 .- (Special.) - The situation here to-night is somewhat strained, every one being on the watch, but it is thought that there will be no trouble whatever. Everybody is cool and conservative, and if there is any trouble it will have to start with the negroes. They have made no open threats that any one knows of, but it is well known that they have armed themselves as well as they have been able. There has been no well of clash anywhere in this part of the county, and the indica-

South Carolina, says public interest is greater in the election in North Carolina than as regards any other State in the Everything is very quiet here. There is naturally intense interest in the election. The vote will be a very heavy one. The Democrats will do their full duty. Interest in the election is far greater than it was in 1876. Then wherever Vance went he lighted the Democratic fires, but this year these fires were kindled all over the State. Popular enthusiasm among the Democrats was never so great. State Chairman Simmons said to-night: The Republicans bewere the state of the "The Republicans have all day been send-

A RINGING LETTER.

Not a Question of Party, But of Race.

RALEIGH, N. C., November 7 .- (Special.)-W. E. Fountain, ex-State Populist chairman and Independent Populist candidate for Congress in the Second District, was booked to speak at Nashville, in this district, to-day, but illness in his family prevented his attendance. The following stirring letter from him was

"To-morrow will settle in North Carolina the question as to the negro in poli-tics. It is practically settled now, be-cause the great body of white people have declared that the Anglo-Saxon race must and will rule, and they mean it The only thing to be settled is with each individual to determine whether he will go on the side of his race and vote the white man's ticket or race and vote the white man's ticket or whether he will go on the side of the negro by voting the fugion ticket. It is no longer a question of party, but of race. A fearful responsibility rests upon each voter, and the white men will mark and hold responsible each man who deserts his race to-morrow. I write this last appeal to my Populist friends has appeal to my Populist friends. Choose quickly and wisely. Lay aside prejudice and join with your race in this supreme effort for white supremacy. There is no issue but the supremacy of the white race over the negro race candidacy of Atwater in the Fourth Discandidacy of Atwater in the Fourth Dis-trict, as is also mine, is for the purpose of drawing this line. A vote for either is a vote for our race, because we have, the support of the white men. A vote for Jenkins means a Fusion vote, and is an endorsement of the negro party. The same applies to Lloyd, because his re-maining in the field after allegating the maining in the field after alienating the maining in the field after allenating the white people by not meeting the race issue which he admitted, will inure to the benefit of the negro, George H. White. It is demonstrated that fusion whereby you secure the negro vote is an unholy and inconsistent alliance, and every true white man ought to repudiate and burst it. Senator Butler, Chairman Thompson, and Secretary Ayer doubt-Thompson, and Secretary Ayer less see their great mistake in leading the Populists into such an alliance, the Populists into such an alliance, which means ultimately Republicanism and destruction. They should have the patriotism to stop you now. No true Populist would for a moment think of going into the Republican party, and yet there is where they are leading you. Lloyd, seeing he had alienated the white Lloyd, seeing he had alienated the white people and in consequence could not secure their votes, should from patriotic motives have retired from the field and permitted his committee to have substituted a Populist, as was proposed by the white people, who could unify the white vote and thus defeat the negro White. Under these considerations, and for others no true Populist, who loves his HALEIGH, N. C., November 7.—The Democrats to-night are very confident, and are freely offering even money on the State, while there are few takers. The weather prediction for to-morrow is "fair and warmer," and the indications are that an unusually heavy vote will be polled throughout the State. The registration is nearly everywhere largely in excess of that of 1866. The business houses is "" wave a few towns will be closed.

WILSON COUNTY.

It Will Be Democratic After To

WILSON, N. C., November 7 .- (Special.) Notwithstanding that Wilson county is port, has received orders to quell any disturbance that may arise. It is hoped that the officers of the cutter are intelarmed, and are ready for any emer-gency. The negroes, too, are armed, and in some sections are inclined to be troublesome, though they lack organiza-tion and are absolutely without leaders, the few renegade white men who have previously acted in this capacity having been warned that any effort on their part to inflame the blacks will be atquences to them.

The negroes here, while they are, as stated, disposed to give trouble, are afraid to make a move, for they are well aware of the conditions that prevail and fully cognizant of the absolute determination of the whites. county the conditions are about the same, though the same perfect organization does not exist among the whites as in the township.

Here the business-men and most prominent citizens are banded together in two well-drilled companies, with officers and directors, and every man is pledged on his honor to respond to the call "to arms." In other words, if the necessity arises, a given signal, which is thoroughly understood, will assemble all reputable citizens of this community at a previously designated spot, and when thus assembled they will be prepared and ready to act.

Even now every white man in the town is armed with a revolver, which is his constant companion, and while it is a well-known fact that the negroes are also armed, there seems to be no doubt in the minds of all that if a clash of arms becomes necessary the negroes will be quickly routed.

MR. KAUFMAN DIES SUDDENLY.

Prominent Charlottesville Merchant Passes Away After a Brief Illness.

Advices received here at 1:30 this morning over the railroad wire from Charlottesville announce the sudden death there shortly before midnight of Mr. M. Kaufman, Jr., one of the leading merchants of the place.

Mr. Kaufman was on the street early in the night, and was in bright spirits and apparently as well as usual, but was taken ill soon after going home, and expired in a short time. The cause of death could not be learned here, but is thought to have been apoplexy. Mr. Kaufman was about 55 years old, and a prominent and successful clothing merchant. His store at Main and Fourth streets is one of the largest in Charlottesville. Deceased was quite well known in Richmond. He is survived by his wife and several children.

FIRE COMMISSIONERS MEET.

Business Transacted at the Session Last Night-Wise Gets the Medal.

A regular meeting of the Board of Fire Commissioners was held in their room in the City Hall last night at 8 o'clock. Those present were Messrs. John H. Frischkorn (president), L. C. Jenkins, Joseph L. Levy, James R. Sheppard, Charles F. Taylor, and G. W. Taylor, Joseph L. Levy, James R. Sheppard, Charles F. Taylor, and G. W. Taylor, commissioners; Chief-Engineer W. G. Puller, Acting-Assistant-Engineer J. E. Waithall. Superintendent-of-Fire-Alarm W. H. Thompson, and Secretary L. S. Jones; also, all the captains of the various companies.

The reports for October from the Chief and Superintendent showed that their departments are in the best of condition, and the physician's report for the same time shows that there is a decrease in sickness in the department.

There was much routine business transacted, but most of the session was taken up in planning about the improvements on the house for Engine Company No. 5, and the inspection which will be held on Wednesday at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The board decided to give the medal donated by the Virginia State Insurance Company to Captain O. F. Wise, of Engine Company No. 4, who on January 24, 1898, while at work extinguishing the fire in St. Peter's Cathedral, fell through a hole in the floor, breaking three ribs, which penetrated his lungs. After being thus disabled he stuck to his work, and had to be carried out of the burning building, much against his wishes, after which he was laid up for over two months. He is now in perfect health again. Captain Wise is a man 47 years old, and he has been a member of the Fire Department most of his life.

The Assistant Engineer is still confined to his bed with influenza, but is reported as being better to-day.

Dr. Hoge Somewhat Improved. The condition of Rev. Dr. Hoge was thought to be rather more favorable yesterday. He passed a more comfortable night Sunday night, and was not suffering quite so much pain yesterday. That the most profound sympathy is felt for Dr. Hoge is shown by the great number of friends who call at the residence daily to inquire after the distinguished minister.

Professor W. D. Thomas, of Richmond College, went to Washington Saturday to bid bon voyage to Hon. J. L. M. Curry, former minister to Spain, who leaves this week for Cairo, Egypt.

CAPT. J. E. FITZ DEAD

VETERAN CONDUCTOR PASSES AWAY AFTER A LONG ILLNESS.

FORTY YEARS IN RAILROAD LIFE.

Probably the Best Known Train man in Virginia, With Friends All Over the Country-Sketch of His Useful Career-His Family.

Captain James E. Fitz, the veteran Chesapeake and Ohio conductor, whose popularity was as wide and as general as his acquaintance, is no more. After weeks of sickness and suffering he passed peacefully away early yesterday morning at his ideal home, "Pilgrim's Rest," near Chimborazo Park. His memory is enshrined in the hearts of hosts of friends who had been drawn to him by his genial disposition, sunny countenance, warm heart, and gentle manners.

Captain Fitz had been ill for more than five weeks with Bright's disease of the kidneys, and during his long illness he all had been a great sufferer. He was conscious until the end, and was perfectly resigned, expressing himself frequently during his illness to his rector and others as ready to die.

Everybody who travelled the Chesa-peake and Ohio rallway knew Captain Fitz. All held him in the highest esteem, and the children loved him. He had been a train conductor for about forty years. But he was by no means an old man. In heart he was always a boy. He was especially fond of young people. There was no conductor more popular than Captain Fitz. He was polite. By nature and by training he was a gentleman of the old school, and no matter how humble might be the passenger in his charge or how provoking the questions asked, Captain Fitz was always polite. This veteran of the railway service had had some expe-riences in his day that were thrilling in the extreme

HIS RAILROAD CAREER.

Captain Fitz commenced railroading sistant in the depet work, and afterwards agent at Millboro' Depot, where he remained three years. Getting tired of the confinement, he asked to be put in the main service, as it was more of an active life, and one which he fancied he would like. Accordingly, the superintendent granted his request, and in November, 1861, he was placed with a veteran freight conductor to learn to hanlle trains. By strict application he soon became quali-fled, and was made a freight train conductor, which position he filled with satisfaction for four years. During this time, war having been declared between the North and South, he had some very narrow escapes from being captured by raid-ing parties of the northern army.

He was frequently sent on reconnoiter-ing tours by the officers of the road, and on several occasions came near being capbly he brought with him valuable infor-

Among them were Generals Beauregard, Jackson, Longstreet, Johnston, Gordon, Early Stuart, Pickett, Fitz Lee, Hampton, and Rosser, When General Rosser was married, near Hanover Courthouse, to Miss Winston, he conducted a special train to that point and back to Richmond to convey the wedding party on that occa

MADE A PASSENGER CONDUCTOR In 1865, the war having closed, Captain Fitz was appointed a passenger-train conductor, and he held that position to the time of his death—a period of thirty-three years. In 1873, when the Chesapeake and Ohio railway was com-pleted to Huntington, W. Va., Captain charge of the train carrying the officials western terminus. It was the first train of the entire line, and was a delightful ad successful trip. Returning, many of were brought to Richmond, and the Captain, with the idea of uniting two great rivers, 420 miles apart, brought a demijohn of Ohio river water back with him and poured it into the noble James, with suit-able ceremonies. On this occasion, which was an auspicious one, hundreds of perns gathered on the bank and witnessed the ceremony, the crowning feature of which were orations by notable men of Captain Fitz conducted the special train conveying the Marquis of Lorne and the Princess Louise from Clifton Forge to Richmond when they came through Virginia many years ago. He dined with the Marquis on the train, and played on his elegant banjo. When Richmond was reached Captain Fitz had the honor of conducting the Princess from the train to a cab, in which she was driven to the Exchange and Ballard Hotels.

WAS FOND OF MUSIC. Captain Fitz was passionately fond of music. He was an excellent performer on both the violin and banjo. Some time after the war his fellow-employees pre-sented him with a violin made in the Aips in the sixteenth century, as a token of their esteem and friendship. On it he played tunes from Hanover Courthouse to the White Sulphur Springs, for the benethe White Sulphur Springs, for the benefit of churches, having been assisted by musically-inclined and gfited friends from Richmond, Charlottesville, and Staunton.
At these concerts hanasome sums were realized for the benefit of churches.

Captain Fitz was a native of Albemark county, having been born near Keswich Depot. Petitions for Murray's pardon have been pending for a year or more, but yesterday morning ex-Commonwealth's-Attorney James E. Clements, of Alexandria county, accompanied by ex-Attorney-General R. The petitions were signed by members of the Board of Supervisors, Commonwealth's Attorney, Sheriff, Ulerk of the Circuit and County courts, and deputies; the Treasurer of the county, Commissioner of the Revenue, Superintendent of Public Schools, and most of the justices of the peace of the county, and the jurors who tried Murry.

From most of the ecounty officials were strong letters tending to show that on the 19th day of May, 1851, Charles W.
